The six roles as an ordered typology of human dominance

Share of respondents choosing each role for now and for how it should be, all six countries

End role, seen now | End role, wanted | Middle role, seen now | Middle role, wanted

Master — humans use nature freely; it exists for them

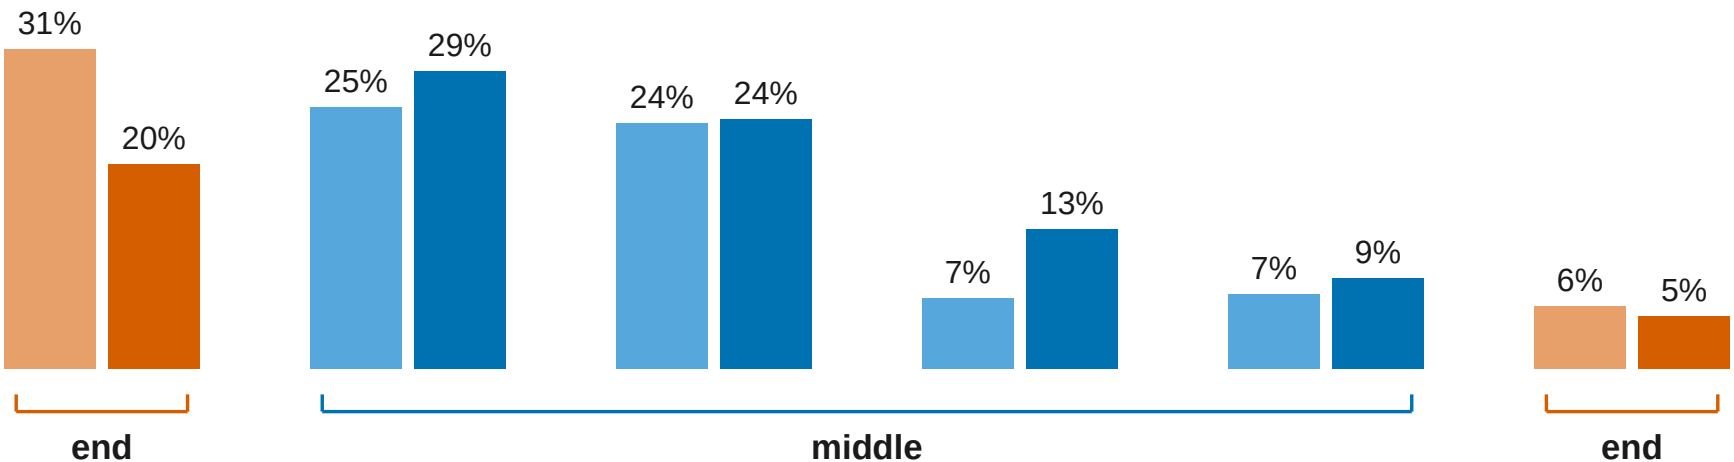
Manager — humans manage nature rationally, with care

User — humans use nature as a resource to keep for the future

Guardian — humans, the stronger, take care of nature

Partner — humans should not intervene; nature decides for itself

Object — humans are subject to the forces of nature



N = 2,513. Extreme choice = Master or Object. Source: 10_figures.R