

The role people see, and the role they would choose

Guardianship rises in all six countries; mastery falls in every country except Canada

